

Prof. Irene Lambrinoudaki

Prof. Irene Lambrinoudaki is an Endocrinologist, specializing in Gynecological Endocrinology. She is professor of Gynecological Endocrinology at the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Athens. She directs the Menopause Clinic at Aretaieio Hospital in Athens, which serves 1,500 women per year from Central and Southern Greece. Prof. Lambrinoudaki has published her work extensively in international peer-reviewed journals and has written six chapters in medical textbooks. She completed medical school at the University of Athens and her doctoral thesis at the Ruprecht Karls University, in Heidelberg, Germany.